Report on "Adopt a Park, Plant Trees"

The dwindling green canopy is becoming a matter of great concern. The concrete jungles, sealed pavement blocks, asphalt roads don't seem to have any place for trees. Hence we have earmarked two parks and our School to plant trees and make a little contribution to the Environment.

Our group funded for a Gulmohar, Neem, Acacia, Mango and Ashoka trees and planted them in the vicinity of the park and in our own school premises.

Following the directive/notification of C.B.S.E., we named the trees after a freedom fighter. The group members christened them after the champions of India's Independence. This venture encouraged the students to research about the tree, its scientific name, its growth period and height in metres. At the same time they read about the Freedom Fighters and gathered information about them as well.

The effort taken up by the group has impacted many other students. We check on our trees, during the recess and find it fulfilling to 'show it off' to our friends, who we are sure are inspired!
