The venue of the programme was the school assembly ground. The stage was decorated with the title of the theme, posters and colourful handprints of the students as a border. The students of Classes VII, VIII and IX were the audience for the programme along with the teachers, parents and grandparents of the students of IXA.

The anchors for the day were Dhun Tandon and Siddhaanth of Class IX A.

The anchors called upon stage Prajyoti Behera to deliver the ‘Welcome Address’. Fifteen students of the class held fifteen different placards showing the welcome greeting in fifteen different languages while the welcome address was delivered.

The first programme called ‘Charity and Calamity- The 2 C’s’ had six participants of the class elaborating the true essence of these two words related to the theme of the assembly.

The second presentation was a skit called ‘The Coromandel Catastrophe’ where ten students enacted a scene where two DAVites helped to collect funds as Calamity Relief Fund for those who were affected by the horrific accident of the ‘Coromandel Express’ inspite of being injured themselves . In the play were 2 dances where both boys and girls performed with great grace.

Next came a group of 6 students who highlighted the philanthropic activities of DAV - specially activities like providing help through donations for different causes. This segment was called ‘The Contributions of DAV’

To inspire the audience to donate willingly for good causes a heart - touching song was sung by 6 students. This soulful melodious rendition had been named as ‘The Serenade of Resilience’.

The concluding show-stopper was the grand finale- ‘Parasol- The Divine Umbrella’. This was a beautifully-choreographed dance where colourful umbrellas were used as props by 8 talented student dancers. Perfect and graceful synchronized movements accompanied by the rhythmic music was the icing on the top. The last part of this dance had students holding fans each having a letter of the spelling of the words ‘THANK YOU’ on them.

As is customary, the ‘Vote of Thanks’ was given by Diyasridharani, who thanked everyone in the audience and all those who helped to make the programme a grand success.
