The Class assembly of Std I C commenced with an invocation that set a peaceful and reflective tone for the gathering. The students recited the Gayathri Mantra and the DAV Gaan, seeking guidance, wisdom, and a disciplined spirit for the day ahead.

The students warmly welcomed all the teachers, students, parents and grandparents to the assembly.

The main highlight of the assembly was a 'Speech' on the theme "How to show compassion towards the sick and old people." The speaker introduced the theme of compassion and explained why we must care for the sick and elderly. The speech emphasized that simple acts of kindness, like offering help and spending time with those who are unwell or aging, can significantly improve their lives.

After the speech, a group of students held up 'Placards' displaying what each letter of 'Compassionate' stands for. The students also gave brief explanations of the messages on their placards, further emphasizing the importance of caring for others.

The students performed two 'Skits'. The first skit highlighted the importance of being attentive to the needs of elderly family members and helping them with household tasks, particularly when they are unwell. The second skit conveyed the message that helping others in public, especially those who are vulnerable, not only brings satisfaction but is also recognized and appreciated by society.

The assembly concluded with a final 'Dance' performance that symbolized the joy of helping others and supporting those in need. Set to an uplifting song, the dance captured the essence of compassion and togetherness.

The assembly was a success, leaving a lasting impression on both students and staff. The various activities effectively communicated the importance of showing compassion towards the sick and old people, and the students' participation was highly commendable.
