Topic: How School Fosters Holistic Development Among Students – Time management - 3 Ways

The morning assembly was presented by the students of class VIII-A under the guidance of their class teacher, Mrs. Hema Sarda. The theme of the program was three ways on “How School Fosters Holistic Development Among Students – Time Management.”

Sai Swathi and Tanish as the hosts of the program, set the stage ready for the assembly . The class choir initiated a melodious rendition of the DAV Gaan, followed by a recitation of the Gayatri Mantra. This was followed by extending a cheerful welcome to the guests and all the attendees by Ankith Nambiar.

The assembly consisted of the six following programs:

Couplet Serenity - Echoes of wisdom - The students exhibited their linguistic abilities by reciting dohas and shlokas along with their meanings.

Mastering minutes - A skit was performed by a group of 15 students on how school teaches the student to manage their time.

Beat Angels - The dance started with a speech on how the dancers managed their time along with their academics and other extra curricular activities.

PrimeTime Priorities - An activity (Jar of Life) depicted how to manage time through activities in our day to day life based on their importance.

Confab On Feat - An interview was conducted with Ritesh Mannem of class X-F who shared his tips on how he manages his time effectively.

Logic Cube - A Rubik’s cube was solved by Sai Mahati within a time limit of 20 seconds.

The Class Assembly concluded with the Supervisory in charge, Ms Uma Ma’am giving a positive remark on the diligent work, while several parents who were overwhelmed by the display of talent shared their views on how school plays a prominent role in fostering the holistic development of a student.

The Words of Gratitude were finally expressed by Gowtham KVS along with the letters held by each student which presented the quote - “LOST TIME CAN NEVER BE FOUND, SO USE IT WISELY,” thus marking the end of the day’s assembly.

The “National Anthem” was followed by the recitation of the ‘Shanti Paat’.
