CLASS-XII

ENGLISH CORE (Code No. 301)

Time allowed: 3 Hrs.Maximum Marks: 80*General Instructions:

1. The Question Paper contains THREE sections-READING, WRITING and LITERATURE.
2. Attempt questions based on specific instructions for each part.

SECTION A: READING SKILLS (22 MARKS)

1. Read the following text.12 marks

1. In this jet age, everyone is interested in having an easy life. Thanks to the advancement in science and technology, these days life has become more easy and comfortable than earlier with a lot of domestic gadgets as well as instantaneous food recipes available in the market. This has resulted in making people develop a mindset of having everything immediately without waiting for even at the traffic signals!
2. A piano teacher described an interesting encounter she had with a young lady who came to inquire about music lessons. The young lady asked her, “How long will this course take? My father tells me that it is in fashion now to be able to play musical instruments and that I should learn one quickly. I want something that will be quick, fast and easy, like...” When the amused teacher explained that it would take a lifetime of meticulous practice to learn music, her face fell and, needless to say, she never came back.

3. The single most important factor that distinguishes those of us who succeed in any venture from those of us who don't is this 'instant-coffee' attitude. Most of us want results quickly. We want to reach the top immediately and get worked up when things go wrong. Perseverance and patience are forgotten words. We get upset, frustrated and angry when a skill or activity requires us to put in a lot of effort and time. We get dejected and want to give it up.
4. Success, real success and happiness come to those who have a 'bread-making' attitude. Those who are willing to knead the dough, wait for hours for it to rise only to punch it down and knead some more, wait for another couple of hours for it to rise again, then bake it before it is ready to be eaten. Nothing is instantaneous. For every endeavour — whether in the area of career, academics, music, sports, relationships, physical fitness or even in spirituality — it is a long arduous journey.
5. The major problem with these 'instant-coffee' solutions is that they are invariable short-lived. If we stubbornly refuse to give up this search for quick solutions, all we do is end up on the wrong track. We never gain anything lasting from them. However, if we just pause to analyse what we are doing, we will realize how much time we are wasting searching for such magical solutions which simply do not exist. We actually save time when we stop this futile search and accept the proven methods of treading the straight and narrow path however difficult it may seem initially. (437 words)

- A. After reading Keats's 'A Thing of Beauty', Sneha deduced that the things that take away the sorrow which surrounds us from time to time can be a thing of beauty. Today while explaining Frost's A Roadside Stand, the teacher said: "...that even a seemingly insignificant thing, like a tiny fruit shop, can have profound significance which can be related to beauty." She is confused as to how can a shabby roadside stand be considered a thing of beauty. Sneha discusses this with her father over phone but he was unable to convince her. Imagining yourself Sneha's father, compose a letter explaining your thoughts on the concept of beauty and consequently validating what the teacher taught. Support your response with reference to both the poems.

You may begin this way:

Dear Sneha

I appreciate your inquisitiveness that how could a shabby shop referred to in the poem, A Roadside Stand, which you read recently could be a thing of beauty...

You may end this way:

*Although I wish to explain this in person, I have no better option than to explain you through this letter. I hope this explanation would be helpful to you. Please let me know if you still have doubts. Warmly,
Dad.*
