“TWO SIDES OF A COIN...”

- One black and other white..!

Economics defines money to be a form of exchange. But today’s world equates money with luxury, pleasure, power and even dignity. Today, when scientists aim to settle humans on mars, people still continue to undermine poor and look down upon them.

Central Government authorizes the currency which we get. Everyone has an equal right over it. But utilizing one’s money and muscle power to earn more and more money is ineluctable.

And yes! Here, I target the very infamous Black Money.

Now a days, due to Demonetisation drive many people had to reveal their illegal assets worth crores. See, the disparity arising. Poor people work on the dumping grounds everyday to earn their living. But, Demonetisation made the riches to throw away their illegal 'long cherished' money into these dumping grounds.

This clearly tells us 'the value of money' that money which we worship as Goddess Lakshmi.

But not everyone uses money in such a way. Even we have some kind and noble souls like Mr. Nana Patekar and Mr. Akshay Kumar, the famous actors of the bollywood industry, giving away a large amount of their payments as relief funds to farmers and tribals.

Therefore, utilization and purpose of using money differs from people to people, as everyone has their own perceptions.

US President Mr. Barack Obama once said, "Money is not the only answer, but it makes a difference." And somewhere I feel this to be true..

Various schemes introduced by our Prime Minister Modiji are now trying to eliminate this difference, this disparity...

Conclusions say only one thing,

"All we need to live is air, water, food, clothes, some companions and a supportive family and all these are not at all bought with money...Never..."

MIND POWER AND POSITIVITY

Human mind makes a person unique from rest of other living organisms. Its only man who is capable of rational thinking and deliberately acting upon his thoughts which further makes man a superior living organism. The mind plays an important role in achieving every success and goal whether minor or major. In order to focus your mind on a goal one needs to have a well defined goal, positivity to achieve it and no worries.

Look at the toxic waste that most people put into the fertile garden of their minds every single day, the worries and anxieties about the past, the tension of the future and those self created fears that create havoc in life. Worry will drain the mind of much of its power and injure the soul. To live life to the fullest one must let only the best information enter our mind. The most joyful, dynamic and contended people of this world don't bring a negative thought within them. Some people block the enormous potential of their mind. One should always understand that mind management is the essence of life management. Mind is nature's greatest gift.

No matter what happens to you in your life, you alone have the capacity to choose your response to it. When you form the habit of searching for positivity in every circumstance, your life will move into its highest dimensions. Laws of nature always ensure that when one door closes another opens. Be an architect of your future than a prisoner of the past. Worry causes the precious mental energy and potential to leak and there will be no energy left. All the creativity, optimism and motivation will be drained, leaving an individual exhausted. Whenever a negative slide comes up on the screen, take action to replace it with a positive one. Concentrate on being cheerful and energetic.

Today and this very moment is a gift. Stay focused on your purpose. The universe will take care of everything else.
